

PROPOSED NEW TAX LAW

Brought Into the Senate Yesterday Afternoon

AMENDED BY SEN. FLINN

Senate Yesterday Afternoon Promptly Tabled Resolution Calling for Investigation of the Expenses of Various Departments.

State House, Jan. 26.

The Senate was the attraction again yesterday afternoon because the House did not have anything much to set upon. The members of the larger body took their seats in the spectators row, on the window seats and those who were not fortunate stood upright while Senator Flinn out in all his amendments to the Bacon-Cushman tax commission bill including, it might be said, sections which establish a flat rate of 7 cents on intangibles and another section which abolished offsets.

It was late in the afternoon that Senator Flinn brought in the committee report. His desk was scattered with manuscripts and in order to straighten out the bill so that the senators would know what the amendment did to it he took the tax commission bill, pointed out the sections amended and read the amendment, that the brief ones, so that the senators who desired might write them in. Senator Corry jumped up before he had hardly started to say that he should make a motion to have the bill printed.

Senator Flinn said he didn't care what the Senate did with it, but he wanted to go through the bill.

Secretary Skeels then read the amendments in full and Senator Flinn repeatedly interrupted him to explain the sections. The part which abolishes offsets was woven into the section of the Bacon-Cushman bill that had reference to offsets and was designed to make it more difficult to get them.

When the reading of the amendments had been finished, Senator Corry said that he believed they ought to be printed. Somebody queried Senator Flinn as to when he thought he could have the bill on the desks printed in full. He said probably Wednesday. Senator Corry said that Senator Flinn had just stated in the morning that he had important measures to put in and that it would be impossible to get them on Tuesday, so he thought the bill ought to be printed. Senator Lewis of Lamoille said that he thought the House would want them printed before they acted on them, anyway. Senator Corry said finally that he would be satisfied with just the report of the committee, which it was said could be done over night, so the bill was ordered to be and the report printed.

When the resolution calling for a commission to investigate the expenses of the departments of state was taken up, Senator Corry moved that it be referred to the Senate. Senator Lewis of Orleans said that it was nothing he was interested in, and he was satisfied to have it lie. The motion was then carried. This is the resolution that came into the Senate as a bomb shell on Saturday.

A committee of conference has been appointed on the amendment proposed by the House to S. 176, the trustee process bill. It will be remembered that this was the compromise measure allowing exemptions in wages to the extent of $5 and more up to $25 in the discretion of the court. The House amended the bill by inserting "$10" in place of Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens beauty, vigor and cheerfulness. It soon disappears when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control its passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root. These are sent, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

$5, making it practically the original trustee process bill that was killed in the Senate by one majority. The conference committee is made up as follows: from the House, Mr. Barber of Brattleboro, Mr. Fletcher of Cavendish, Mr. Williams of Newport; from the Senate, Senators Lewis of Orleans, Sherwin and Gleason.

When the bill to appropriate the sums for the support of the government was taken up in the House, Mr. Bacon explained that it had been amended in two or three particulars. In the first place, the sum of $25,000 was appropriated for the last stretch of the present general assembly. It had been thought best to make this $25,000 in case the bill was passed increasing the salaries of the members. An extra $10,000 was put in for the remainder of the year ending June 30 for the administration of justice on account of another supreme court judge and the raising of the salaries. In the past seven months over $90,000 has been paid for cattle killed by reason of tuberculosis, so an extra $25,000 was appropriated for the executive department to meet the expenses to June 30. The appropriation for the administration of justice for the next two years is set at $350,000 a year instead of $300,000, or two years ago, on account of increased salaries.

ATHLETIC HONORS SOON FORGOTTEN, SAYS CLEWS

Banker Advises Young Men to Get All the Education Possible.

New Haven, Jan. 26.—Henry Clews, the New York banker, in a letter to the Yale News yesterday, discussing the college training as a requisite for success in business life or banking, and particularly for a life in Wall street, says that while he was formerly deprecating such training and still thinks a bright graduate from a high school can be placed on a par with the college man, at the beginning, he believes a higher education gives its possessor great advantages in after-life. He advises young men to get all the education possible, and say he has always advocated a financial course in every college, taught by a man who has had actual experience in the financial world.

In conclusion he says that he is a great believer in sport and athletics, but warns young men that athletics are soon forgotten after graduation from college, while the educated student gathers laurels as long as he lives.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—President Roosevelt has received the resignation of Secretary of State Root, to take effect upon the qualification of his successor.

ROOT RESIGNS FROM CABINET

Ready to Leave Office Secretary of State

WHEN SUCCESSOR GOES IN

Bacon Named to Succeed Him—Last Act of Retiring Official to Sign Treaty for Submission of Fisheries Dispute to The Hague.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Secretary of State Elihu Root announced yesterday the most difficult negotiation of his diplomatic career when he and Ambassador Bryce signed the treaty to arbitrate at the Hague the dispute between Great Britain and the United States over the New Foundland fisheries, and he at once sent his resignation to President Roosevelt. Within a short time the President had nominated Assistant Secretary Robert Bacon as secretary of state and J. C. O'Loughlin as assistant secretary.

The dispute of the United States and Great Britain over the fisheries is more than a century old. Almost every secretary of state has made an attempt to clear it up. Now, Mr. Root has come nearer than any one else by arranging for arbitration. Though he considers that he has done more important work during the time he has been secretary, he does not think that he has settled a question which required such hard. The treaty had been agreed on in all details, and Mr. Root waited the moment of signing to end his career as secretary of state. He will step into another official capacity when he takes the place of Thomas C. Platt in the United States Senate.

The nominations of Mr. Bacon and Mr. O'Loughlin were sent to the Senate by the President as soon as Mr. Root's resignation reached the White House.

HOLDUP FAILS.

Train Robbers Outwitted by Fireman at Waukegan, Ill.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—According to dispatches yesterday from Waukegan, a suspected plot on the part of two masked men to hold up and rob the fast mail train No. 15 on the Northwestern Railroad there shortly before midnight was foiled by the cool-headedness of the train crew.

One of the alleged bandits was captured by the Waukegan police after a revolver battle. His partner escaped during the melee and is being searched for. The man under arrest gave the name of Frank Larry, 26 years old, and said his home was in Buffalo. He refused to reveal his partner's identity.

The fast mail train left the North-west station in Chicago for Green Bay, Wis., shortly before midnight and stopped at Waukegan for water. When the train stopped the fireman started to climb back over the tender to adjust the tank pipe. As he reached the top of the pipe, he saw the two men crouching near the end of the tender. The fireman was quickly covered by a revolver in the hands of one of the men, and was ordered to get down from the tender. He did so, and as he alighted on the ground made a dash for the rear of the train. The other members of the crew were quickly told of what was going on, and a dash was made for the two men on the rear of the tender. A struggle ensued in which both escaped. Larry was later captured and locked up.

SUIT FOR 353,288 ACRES.

The Government Is After the Harriman Railroads.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 26.—The government has filed thirty-day suits against the Oregon & California Railroad company, the present owners of the Oregon & California railroad, and more than one hundred other individuals and private corporations. These suits are to recover from the railroads and their grantees, an aggregate of 353,288 acres of land, within the "old Oregon & California land grant" in this state. The lands are valued at over $15,000,000. The suits were filed by B. D. Townsend, special assistant to the attorney general and are corollary to, but entirely separate from, the suit recently filed by the federal government against the Oregon & California and the Southern Pacific for the cancellation of the patent to the grant on the alleged ground that the companies failed to dispose of the lands contained in them to bona fide settlers at the rate of $2.25 per acre. The present suit is for recovery from the grantees of railroads 353,288 acres which the government alleges it has sold to timber companies, lumber speculators and others. The grounds alleged in these actions are the same as in the first case; that is, that the railroad companies failed to live up to the provisions of the patents.

FUNERAL FOLLOWS WEDDING.

A Daughter Weds at Her Father's Coffin.

New York, Jan. 26.—An unusual wedding ceremony occurred in Mt. Vernon when Miss Daisy Helme was married one hour before the funeral of her father, to Francis M. Oliver of London, England. Miss Helme's father, John C. Helme, an accountant, was asphyxiated by gas in his home.

The wedding and funeral services took place in the same house, an hour apart. Both were in charge of the Rev. Charles S. Seymour, pastor of the Vernon Heights Congregational church. The wedding occurred at 7 p. m. in the same room in which the body of the bride's father lay. Only a few relatives were present. At 8 o'clock friends and relatives gathered and the funeral services were held.

It had been the intention of the couple some time ago to be married on that day. Rather than postpone the wedding, the family decided to have the ceremony performed.

NO JURY TRIAL FOR GOON SHUNG.

Supreme Court Upholds the Court of Massachusetts.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The question whether a Chinaman whose deportation from the United States has been ordered is entitled to a jury trial under the "most favored nation" clause of the treaty between the United States and China, was raised in the case of Goon Shung vs. the United States, which was decided by the supreme court of the United States yesterday against Shung. The United States district court of the district of Massachusetts ordered the deportation of Goon Shung under the Chinese exclusion law on the charge that he was unlawfully in the United States, refusing to grant his appeal for a jury trial. On that point the case was brought to the supreme court. The decision was announced by Chief Justice Fuller and affirmed the verdict of the lower court.

FAMOUS SMOKE CASE DECIDED.

The Verdict Favors the Amalgamated Copper Company.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 26.—Judge Hunt in the federal court has handed down a decision against the farmers and in favor of the Amalgamated Copper company in the Washoe smelter fire case, wherein the farmers sought to prevent the operation of the Washoe smelter on account of alleged damage to agricultural lands. Froese an unofficial source, it is learned that the government will offer the evidence of hundreds of alleged dummies whose names were used by the accused persons to schedule lots without their knowledge or consent. These alleged dummies who will begin to arrive on Monday in obedience to subpoenas are for the most part business or professional men. Some are judges, some are prosecuting attorneys, one is a former governor, and several are bank cashiers. They are all friends of the men against whom they will have to testify. These witnesses are coming from New York, Ohio, Virginia, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Arkansas and Tennessee. There are about 2,000 lots involved, carrying from one-quarter of an acre to four acres each. They have all been improved and are valuable.

WILEY STICKS IN FOOD FIGHT

Apparently Undisturbed by Referee Board's Decision

ON BENZOATE OF SODA

Supported by the Courts—Law Is Sweeping, and Dr. Wiley's Friends Believe It Will Stand the Test.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The decision of the referee board under the pure food and drugs act to the effect that the use of benzoate of soda is not deleterious to health, thus controverting the finding hitherto made by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of agriculture, has attracted the keenest interest here. Members of Congress who are concerned about the pure food law are giving it careful attention. Talk is that Dr. Wiley will be forced to resign, but if so there has been no sign of it thus far.

Dr. Wiley was at his desk as usual yesterday, giving attention to pure food matters. He had no comment to make on the decision of the referee of the board. In some quarters, the decision of the referee board is looked on as the entering wedge to the breaking down of the pure food law. It is expected the question of the use of a large number of substances which Dr. Wiley has called deleterious to health will now be carried to the referee board.

One of the most important phases of the situation, which friends of Dr. Wiley call attention to, is that the referee board, headed by Dr. Ira Remsen of Johns Hopkins, did not pass on a most vital phase of the use of benzoate of soda. This question is whether the substance is being used by food manufacturers, fruit canners, and the like to cover up the use of inferior articles and to enable them to palm off on the public food substances they could not otherwise dispose of.

This question was raised most forcibly recently by Judge Anderson of the federal district court at Indianapolis. Judge Anderson only last week decided in favor of the state board of health of Indiana a case which was raised by Curtis Brothers of Rochester and Williams Brothers of Detroit, who were instrumental in getting the referee board named.

They were seeking to prevent the state board from shutting off the use of benzoate. Judge Anderson gave a decision in favor of the state board of health. He declared that such men as Dr. Wiley and the Indiana state board of health knew what they were doing when benzoate was prohibited, and he added: "I am of the opinion that benzoate of soda is used, if at all, to cover up inferior quality of vegetables and fruits, and unsanitary processes of packing. I don't know and don't care whether it is a poison or not. It is only used to cover fraud and deception."

In the light of this decision it is pointed out that regardless of the referee board the use of benzoate may be prevented by the courts. It is pointed out that the pure food law is extremely sweeping, and says an article shall be deemed adulterated if it contains any deleterious ingredient "that may" render it injurious to health. Talk is already heard that if the use of benzoate is permitted bills will be introduced in Congress calculated to shut it out. It is known some members are giving the subject close scrutiny.

MANY INVOLVED IN LAND FRAUD.

Almost a Panic Prevails in State of Oklahoma.

Muskogee, Ok., Jan. 26.—Developments which will probably involve some of the most prominent men in Oklahoma are expected during the federal grand jury investigation of alleged town lot frauds. The inquiry will begin here Tuesday. M. I. Mott, attorney for the Creek Indians, who brought 20,000 suits in the federal courts to recover in behalf of the Creek Indians lands of immense value alleged to have been obtained by fraud by the persons now controlling them, dictated the following statement: "There is not a word of truth in a statement quoted by Governor Charles N. Haskell as having been made by Scott MacReynolds, attorney for W. R. Hearst, to the effect that I had said that I had not found evidence to connect Haskell with any criminal conduct in relation to the Muskogee lot matter, but that I might be able to force an indictment which would answer our purposes. I never made such a statement to MacReynolds or to anyone else."

Reports are in circulation that at least one of the men whose acts the federal grand jury will investigate this week is closely watched by his friends as a precaution against suicide. Some of the accused men, it is said, have offered the government the greater part of their wealth for the benefit of the Indians, if assured that they will not be prosecuted. These alleged proposals have not been considered.

Froese an unofficial source, it is learned that the government will offer the evidence of hundreds of alleged dummies whose names were used by the accused persons to schedule lots without their knowledge or consent. These alleged dummies who will begin to arrive on Monday in obedience to subpoenas are for the most part business or professional men. Some are judges, some are prosecuting attorneys, one is a former governor, and several are bank cashiers. They are all friends of the men against whom they will have to testify. These witnesses are coming from New York, Ohio, Virginia, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Arkansas and Tennessee. There are about 2,000 lots involved, carrying from one-quarter of an acre to four acres each. They have all been improved and are valuable.

E. P. SHAW IN BANKRUPTCY.

Former State Treasurer of Massachusetts Fails for Millions.

Boston, Jan. 26.—Former State Treasurer E. P. Shaw of Newburyport, a railroad financier, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday, with liabilities of $1,023,305 and assets of $275,785.

The principal liability is endorsed paper for the James E. Shaw company, incorporated, amounting to $461,738, which is held by 60 creditors. The secured liabilities are $232,260, with stock of street railway companies in which he was interested, as collateral.

Mr. Shaw retired as state treasurer in 1890, having served five years. During the previous fall he participated in a spirited campaign for the Republican congressional nomination in the sixth district, but was defeated by Augustus P. Gardner of Hamilton.

He then engaged in private business and financed the construction of the first electric railway between this city and Worcester.

With his son, James F. Shaw of Manchester, he formed the James F. Shaw & company, incorporated, which has been interested in street railways in New England for some years. The James F. Shaw & company went into the hands of a receiver last spring and its affairs are still in process of adjustment.

"A delightful story." The teapot tells it when you use "Uncle Joe's" Tea; delicious, healthful and refreshing; in fact, "Uncle Joe's" is tea perfection.

"Uncle Joe's" New Story.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Speaker Cannon has added to the literature of the wordy war between Congress and the White House. "Uncle Joe's" is credited with a story that has set all Congress to laughing. It deals with a member of the House who went home after a late session at the club rather wobbly as to legs and somewhat thick as to speech. At 3 o'clock in the morning Mrs. C. greets him with the snoring spouse in the arms of her elbow.

"John," she whispered excitedly, "John, wake up!"

"John, for mercy's sake, wake up!" she whispered again emphasizing her appeal with a somewhat thick as to speech. Another grunt was all that greeted her.

"For heaven's sake, John, wake up!" she whispered frantically, "there are robbers in the house!"

"You're mistaken, my dear," said the congressman, composing himself for sleep. "Ain't any robbers in the house. They're all in the Senate."
